

Edgar Degas was a French artist famous for his work in painting, sculpture, printmaking, and drawing. He is regarded as one of the founders of Impressionism, although he rejected the term and preferred to be called a realist. He is especially identified with the subject of the dance and over half of his works depict dancers. These display his mastery in the depiction of movement. His portraits are considered to be among the finest in the history of art. In 1872 Degas lived in New Orleans. One of his New Orleans works depicting a scene at the cotton exchange was his only work purchased by a museum in France during his lifetime.
